The Times commenting upon the marine losses said today:

"Many people have been under the impression that these losses were caused by hitting British mines. It can be stated, however, that not a single British mine has been laid down off the English coast. The loss falls most heavily on neutral shipping, which, however, has been warned repeatedly by the admirally that German mines are insecurely anchored and are likely to drift great distances."

The argument is made that it would me this country well to extend to the distremed people of Mexico some relief in their present dire straits. Con-sul Hanna's dispatch was referred to the Red Cross. This organization during the last two years has sent small sums to Mexico for relief of famine conditions in many localities. That the United States government is strongly advocating the enactment of some sort of a general annesty law in Mexico, which will put an end to the present era of proscriptions of political offenders was announced at the White House yesterday. It was later explained that while no formal proposal has been made to the government headed by Gen. Gutterres, it has been represented to him by Silliman, Canova, and other representatives of the state department of Mexico that his government can hardly com-mand the support of the government nor the American people if it permits the ruth-
